

Wow!

What a 4th quarter it has been!

As we come close to the end of the school year, I just wanted to take a moment to say thank you.

Thank you for being who you are – and, for making Metro who we are. It's that you have chosen to be here, and that you've chosen to partner in the ways that you have that Metro is what Metro is.

The Apostle Paul said it well one time when he was reflecting on and writing to one of his favorite groups of people.

"We give thanks to God always for all of you, making mention of you in our prayers, remembering without ceasing your work of faith, your labor of love, and your patience of hope in our Lord Jesus Christ in the sight of our God and Father" (1 Thessalonians 1:2-3).

Thanks for doing that. Thanks for being that. Thanks for all of that – especially during these past seven weeks. It's been heartening and humbling as a Metro dad, as a seasoned educator, and as Metro's Head of School to be part of such a wonderful group of people – especially at a time like this.

So, although we don't yet know all of the particulars of what the future holds, with you – the people that God has assembled here at Metro – we can be sure that the best is yet to come.

So, rest assured that we'll keep everybody posted as soon as possible about returning as much as possible.

In the meantime:

1. Thank you.
2. You will remain front and center in our prayers.
3. Do not hesitate to let us know if we can help in any way. (We'd be honored and humbled to do so.)

Grateful to be serving together,

Keith
