

Dear Faculty and Families of Metro Christian Academy:

We will be extending remote learning until April 30. Nonetheless, we look forward to returning as soon as possible. We look forward to finishing the school year together, Lord willing. And, we look forward to enjoying as many of the end-of-year opportunities as we possibly can. Our “as-soon-as-possible” return will be informed by guidance from federal, state, and local authorities.

In the meantime, a recent re-read of Metro’s mission caught my eye.

To provide, in partnership with involved parents, an accredited college-preparatory education that is founded on biblical principles, cultivates Christian character, and equips students to excel academically, spiritually, physically, and socially. Both faculty and families are doing commendably well with that - even via remote learning. But, how much better (and, how much more desirable!) it will be to resume doing it together. To that end, the School Board and I will continue to prioritize an as-soon-as-possible return protocol. As of now, classes will continue to be remote and extracurriculars will continue to be suspended thru April 30.

As the situation continues to be fluid and fast-changing, we will try to stay on top of pertinent data and dates. We will review the as-soon-as-possible return date on a weekly basis, with updates coming weekly in the Weekly Happenings and Currivean’s Corner - and, more frequently as pertinent via this page or other communiqués. We will always try to be as current as reasonable, and we will prioritize plenty of lead-time when a return date is viable, determined, and announced.

I am sure that I speak for all of us when I say that I look forward to a return - as soon as possible! It parallels the passion from the pen of Paul, when he and the Holy Spirit urge us to live in anticipation of Christ’s return.

To live this day in light of that day.

So also, as we continue to hold it together at home, when we’d rather be together at school, let’s commit to doing this one day at a time - trusting God’s goodness, greatness, and grace to pull us thru ... even better than before.

Until that day,

Keith
